

MapFactor Navigator 7 with Android Auto connectivity – for free

MapFactor Navigator is one of the first offline GPS navigation apps for Android Auto. And what is more it is free.

Navigator now fully compatible with Android Auto

In August 2020 Google decided to expand Android Auto's app ecosystem into new categories, including navigation. MapFactor was chosen as one of the few early access partners and now, after months of close cooperation with Google, we can introduce Navigator 7 – fully compatible with Android Auto.

Our customers will be pleased that, unlike by some other navigation apps, this function will be available at no extra charge in all Navigator 7 versions – from Navigator FREE to professional Navigator PRO.

Drivers will be now able to use MapFactor Navigator on their inbuilt car displays with Android Auto connectivity. Because they will not need to check their smartphone displays, driving will be safer and more comfortable. Thanks to the offline map data Navigator on Android Auto will provide directions even without an internet connection.

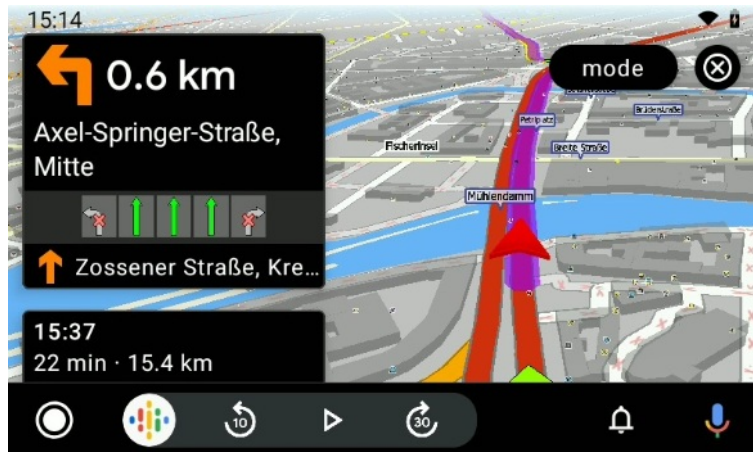

What stays and what comes new with Navigator 7 for Android Auto?

- still an offline and free gps navigation with voice turn-by-turn guidance,
- fully compatible with Android Auto,
- still easy to use – just Plug and Play!
- not distracting driver's attention during navigation,
- navigation with Google Assistant commands (navigate to..., search for...),
- offers up to 6 favourite items,
- other Navigator features for Android Auto also available:
  - lane assistant
  - Live HD Traffic
  - alternative routes
  - 2D / 3D map mode
  - day / night app mode
- supports one-line searching,
- comes with new notification on the phone,
- meets the strict Google requirements.

New professional TomTom maps

The new TomTom map update brings new territories all over the world and a change from the concept of an individual map purchase to an advantageous one-year regional map subscription which includes also all quarterly map updates. The customers thus always have up-to-date maps on hand.
